New York. Missionary research library

FOREWORD

For several years the Missionary Research Library has published an annual select list of its accessions for distribution at the Assembly of the Division of Foreign Missions, N.C.C.C.

This time we have waited to make the List conform to the calendar year of 1956, and are mailing copies to missionary societies, libraries and students of missions who would be especially interested in a classified bibliography of current books added to our Library collection.

Only the more important pamphlets have been included. Titles published before 1954 are not listed.

Beginning with 1957 we shall issue this Select List of Current Books and Pamphlets each quarter, with the usual information about publishers and prices, and also brief annotations. We would be glad to know the names of persons or organizations desiring the Quarterly List.

The Missionary Research Library does not act as an agent for purchasing books. Orders should be sent direct to the publishers or through your own book agency.

Prices listed for United Nations publications are United States prices since these publications may be obtained at the International Documents Service of Columbia University Press in New York City. In the case of foreign publications, the price has been given in the currency of the country of publication, whenever this information is available. Your local book agent or library can indicate where foreign publications may be available in this country. Friendship Press is the agent for Edinburgh House and the World Dominion Press. Student Christian Movement publications may be secured from Macmillan; most Lutterworth Press items, along with many other British publications in missions, may be purchased from Alex R. Allenson, Inc.

Periodicals and reports are not listed. Very few government documents are here listed. A list of current periodicals available in the Missionary Research Library will soon be published.

Additional copies of this List may be purchased at fifty cents each.

ADDENDA

1. Fingesten, Peter.
East is East; Hinduism, Buddhism, Christianity, a Comparison. Philadelphia, Muhlenberg, 1956. 181 p. $3.00 [In critically analysing and comparing the Hindu-Buddhist versus the western Judeo-Christian world-views, the author attempts to cut away the romantic mysticism which too often clouds a consideration of the Hindu systems of religions. He maintains that, "the most fundamental values of the Western heritage are based upon Judeo-Christian ethics, Roman law, and Greek objectivity," and that these cannot be improved by turning to the "fantastic" superstitions and the "primitive notions about the cosmos" which he finds in these Eastern philosophies, as documented by the sacred texts of the East.]

2. Noss, John B.
Man's Religions. Rev. ed. N.Y., Macmillan, 1956. 784 p. [In addition to minor changes and corrections, this standard work has been greatly enhanced by the addition of much important material. Among the new subjects included are: the general characteristics of primitive man, rock and Persian influences on the development of Judaism, and the recent developments in Islam.]
